ITEM 5. OTHER EVENTS

Paula G. Rosput, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of AGL Resources Inc., announced today at the Company's annual meeting of shareholders that the Public Utility Holding Company Act staff ("Staff") of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") had declined to grant the Company's request for dispensation in connection with an inadvertent violation of Rule 70(b)(4), an anti-interlock rule promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, as amended ("PUHCA").

Rule 70(b)(4) provides, in pertinent part, that where an individual who is an affiliate of an investment banking firm also serves as a member of the board of directors of a registered holding company, the investment banking firm cannot have acted as a managing underwriter for the distribution of securities issued by the registered holding company or its subsidiaries for at least twelve months prior to the individual's appointment or election to such company's board of directors. In July, 2003, Credit Suisse First Boston (USA), Inc. ("CSFB"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Credit Suisse Group ("Credit Suisse"), served as co-managing underwriter for a public offering of debt securities issued by AGL Capital Corporation, a subsidiary of AGL Resources. On July 29, 2003, Mr. Thomas D. Bell, Jr., was appointed to AGL Resources' board of directors (the "Board"). Mr. Bell is a director of both CSFB and Credit Suisse.

The Staff of the SEC has from time to time granted dispensation under Rule 70 for certain technical violations of Rule 70, and the Company had expected to obtain such a dispensation in the case of Mr. Bell on the grounds that the public offering in which CSFB served as co-managing underwriter was completed prior to Mr. Bell becoming a director, Mr. Bell had no involvement in the offering, his appointment as a director of the Company was unrelated to his affiliation with Credit Suisse and CSFB, and under Rule 70(b)(4) it would be permissible for Mr. Bell to be a director commencing in July of 2004. However, the Staff of the SEC recently informed the Company that it would not grant any dispensation for Mr. Bell to continue his service on the Board between now and July of 2004.

Ms. Rosput announced that as a result of the SEC's decision, Mr. Bell has resigned from the Board and that, if elected at today's annual meeting of shareholders, he would be required to decline to serve as a director because of the Rule 70 issue. In light of the fact that Mr. Bell received more than enough votes to be re-elected to the Company's Board and that, under Rule 70, Mr. Bell will become eligible to join the Company's Board this July, the Company's board of directors has chosen to leave the seat previously held on the Board by Mr. Bell vacant. It is the current intent of the Board to invite Mr. Bell to re-join the Board in July, 2004 when he first becomes eligible pursuant to Rule 70(b)(4). If appointed in July, Mr. Bell would be required to stand for re-election at the 2005 annual meeting of shareholders.
